Nevada Dry Farming

No subject is of greater interest to northern Nevada than that of scientific and culture or what is commonly known under the inadequate name of "dry farming." By its use irrigated land now under cultivation may be made to double the present yield, while non-irrigable land can be made to produce profitable crops.

All the great work accomplished in the promotion of scientific soil culture by Professor George W. Campbell of Tucson, Ariz., and the consequent development of thousands of acres of land in the west previously considered unfit for growing crops, no such praise cannot be said.

and yet, with all that has been accomplished, the work of reclamation of hundreds of thousands of acres in the so-called "desert of the west" has been but barely begun. Campbell has given 22 years of work and research to the development of this greatest of modern sciences. By soil culture the world is fed, and if these principles are followed in Arizona and other parts of the great west, the future marvelous prosperity of this vast empire is assured. Campbell has given to the world the full story of his soil discoveries. That story has circled the globe and is leading to the redemption of millions of acres on other continents. It has been translated into at least three foreign languages—German, Russian and Hungarian.

Campbell dug the truth out of the soil with no help from costly apparatus in simply furnished laboratories. When he first set forth his ideas and his proposed methods to no public both were treated with scant courtesy by the professed agricultural scientists of the day. This was not from any enmity to the man. There was no hint of personal malignity in their attitude. But the test of time and the proof by results have long since vindicated Campbell. Then the skeptical world began to take notice. Every year the circle of influence spread wider. In response to call from farmers who wanted help in solving the same desperate problem he had mastered. Campbell responded in a generous spirit and the results have been great.

Along with other western states Nevada has awakened and is in line with the movement that is to revolutionize agriculture and make the west the center of the crop culture that is to feed the world.

A Needed Organization

Nye county comes near occupying second place in the list of counties in this state with reference to population. It contains the largest number of square miles of any county in the state, and there is no reason why it should not advance to first place in the next decade. All that is required is the proper action on the part of the business men and taxpayers. The railroads are at last recognizing the agricultural possibilities of the state and are preparing to spend a great deal of money to induce settlers to migrate here.

The article appearing on the front page of the Bonanza today, advocating the organization of a chamber of commerce, should be read by every person. Comments are invited and those interested are requested to submit their opinions for publication.

The Tybo precinct cast six votes for Springmeyer and none for Roberts. That is the only precinct in the county that went unanimous for the bull moose congressional candidate. It might have been worse, providing Springmeyer was elected.

President-elect Wilson says there is no cause for the working and business men of the United States to be alarmed over his ascension the throne. Let us hope he is correct.

The suspense over the senatorial election will be over in a day or two. First it is Massey and then it is Pitman. Probably both were elected.

The manufacturers of hats always reap a harvest at election time and also at the close of the baseball season.

Who's who in Nye county politics is a difficult question to answer at the present time.

The payment of election bets is now in order.

Somehow there exists a vast amount of apprehension as to the possibility of catching Consumption. We do not know just facts, and are anxious in what we assert.

If we were afflicted with Tuberculosis, we should do precisely what we ask others to do—take Recknagel's Alternative. The reason we should do this and warrant we have for making all consumptives to take it is that we have the reports of many consumers, one of whom writes:

1912 Pennsylvania Ave., Phila., Pa.

"Gentlemen: For two years I was afflicted with hemorrhages of the lungs, the number totaled nearly one hundred. Our family physician advised another climate, we to remain would probably be fatal. However, I remained, and in February of 1902, I was taken with a severe attack of consumption. I suffered sufficiently to walk about the house with a frightened looking countenance which no medicine had taken could alleviate. It was at this time, March 1902, that I learned of and started taking Recknagel's Alternative. In a short time my strength was gone and I have had two slight attacks of consumption. It is effect a recovery. I am at present in excellent health and feel that as long as I can obtain Recknagel's Alternative, I have no fear of Consumption. I cannot speak too highly for the good it has done."

(Signed) HOWARD L. KLOTTZ.

Recknagel's Alternative is effective in Decubital, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system, and contains poisons, opium, or sulphur-containing drugs. For sale by all druggists. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Recknagel Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.
